FOUNDATIONS OFFERING SURROGACY GRANTS

List is not all-inclusive.

Baby Quest

Baby Quest Foundation was born from one young woman's struggles to have a child. They are a charitable organization that helps couples and/or individuals build families through gestational surrogacy (and also IVF, egg donation, and sperm donation). Baby Quest offers surrogacy grants bi-annually at a value of $2,000-$20,000, based on the recipient's need.

Tinina Q.
CADE Foundation
Helping Families.. OVERCOMING Infertility!

The Tinina Q. Cade Foundation (Cade Foundation) is a 501(c)(3) tax exempt non-profit organization that was started in 2005 to provide information support and financial assistance to help needy infertile families overcome infertility. They offer a Family Building Grant of up to $10,000 to infertile families in the Spring and Fall each year. The foundation is named for Dr Tinina Cade, who carried and delivered the founder's triplets after five years of infertility. She delivered her "grandchildren" at the age of 55! The Family Building Grant can be used to help with the costs of domestic adoption and medical fertility treatment.

Journey to Parenthood is a charitable organization that helps couples and individuals looking to create families through advanced fertility treatments such as IUI, IVF, egg donation, and surrogacy. Applicants must be under treatment from a Reproductive Endocrinologist and Infertility Specialist (REI) in the United States and must be able to demonstrate they can provide a stable home environment for the child.

Gift of Parenthood

Gift of Parenthood offers grants four times a year, based upon the availability of funds. Recipients are chosen by a committee comprising fertility specialists, financial advisers, surrogacy attorneys, clinical psychologists, and others who have personally dealt with infertility. Grants can be used to cover any expenses associated with third-party reproduction.

BRINGING DREAMS & MIRACLES TOGETHER SINCE 2007

The Hope for Fertility Foundation established their National Grant to help couples overcome the financial difficulties that come with infertility treatments. The frequency and amount of grants is based on the availability of funds raised throughout the year. Grants are awarded twice a year but may be more or less frequent. Grant amount typically ranges from $250 to $10,000.

Grants from the Chicago Coalition for Family Building are open to eligible individuals and couples to help defray the financial challenges of infertility treatment, adoption, or third-party reproduction. Grants are awarded on an annual basis and the number of grants available is dependent upon annual fundraising efforts. There are several different types of grants offered, below is one :

The Kevin J. Lederer Life Foundation is a nonprofit organization providing financial assistance for those affected by the mental, physical and financial distress of infertility. The program is open to individuals or couples living in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana who require help with third-party reproduction and medical treatment, as well as other fertility services (IVF cycles, legal services, genetic testing, and acupuncture services) from the Life Foundation's partners. The Life Grant provides a maximum of $10,000. To qualify, IPs must have an annual household income of less than $150,000, among other requirements.

Worth the Wait Charity's mission is to empower young adult cancer survivors on their path to parenthood. They provide financial support and educational resources for fertility treatments, adoption, and surrogacy while advocating for oncofertility within the healthcare system and beyond. Their grants range in amount based on the recipient's need and funds available.
